NOTE

CURRENT EVENTS

The patient comes to the reception desk - psychiatric emergency department, presents his ID and asks to have his name deleted from the system. He states that he has visited the clinic previously and had two return appointments booked but that he was unable to attend these and was still billed. The patient gives a somewhat strange impression and does not seem entirely adequate. He also starts talking about Electrolux and their system.

The patient chooses to leave the clinic without seeing a doctor.
